(2) para 5 of notes on File, and Nos 604, 605, 611, 612, 613, and 614 & 616 of the Note on Annual Returns (Madras) at Flag V.

V In Madras, District Reserves, are under the control of an European Inspector, one Sergeant, to fifty men is attached to the Reserve on mobilisation, and an armed reserve when mobilised is formed into a Company under the Command of the Reserve Inspector, divided into half-Company Commands under the Command of Sergeants, who are sub-divided into Sections Commanded by Head Constables.

The present strength of the Station Reserve is one Sub-Inspector, 4 Head Constables and 58 Police Constables

The District Superintendent of Police, proposes, 1 European Sergeant in place of the Sub-Inspector, 6 Head Constables (including Jamadar) and 70 Police Constables.

S. 1.—E. P. B.—5-1920.—6,000.

The "Emergency Force" is to be formed of 3 Head Constables, and 30 Police Constables. This force must necessarily be armed.

The 21 Police detailed did for Escort as Treasury Guard and escort — Treasury Guard (5) and escorts (16) — will also be armed.

62 rifles have been provided in all for the use of the Rangoon Police, so that if the additions suggested by the D.-S.P. are approved, it will remain unarmed.

The D.-S.P. has not asked for additional arms, and it is not probable, in view of the increase recently Sanctioned, that the Government of India will be prepared to sanction a further increase. Please see also Para 4 of notes below.

The proposals, if approved, will involve an extra cost of Rs 407- 10-8 per mensem. The proposed rates of pay for the Sergeant, H. Constable, and Constables, are the same as those recently Sanctioned for the Police. The Government of India have sanctioned, Rs 125 for Sergeants, Rs 35-10 which is the average for Head Constables, Rs 21¾-10 which is the average for Constables.

The Supdt. states he will be unable to meet this Sum of Rs 407- 10-8 from the Police Budget and requests that necessary funds may be provided by re-appropriation from Assigned Tract Revenues.

Please see the foregoing note and papers referred to therein and L.O.C. a enclosure:

(2) The D.S.P.'s scheme seems to have been carefully thought out. Briefly his proposals are that the Armed Police Reserve in the C.A. to the extent at present seems to be very badly organised & of poor material should be organised on the lines followed in the Madras Presidency though in the Madras standard the higher grades of ~~Inspectors~~ will not until be reached. For instance this Reserve will be under Sergeants instead of Sergeant Majors as in Madras by an European Sergt. whereas in Madras this appointment is held by an European Inspector; also there will be 6 PCs whereas under the Madras standard 7 would be employed.

(3) The D.S.P. has not, however, explained in the L.O.C. the necessity of raising the number of Police Constables from 58 to 70 and this should be done. Information on this point may be called for? J. M.

Apparently it was given in a statement (referred to as Statement A in L.O.C.) which, however, has not been forwarded with the letter. It may also be asked whether the daily ⊗ conveyance allowances proposed for the Sergts are in accordance with practice in Headquarters.

As regards the [illegible] scheme, we might ask that if it be approved by the Govt of India, we may be permitted to make necessary provision in next year's budget to give the scheme with a view to its introduction in the next official year. There seems to be no immediate necessity for its introduction. We have a reserve and it is armed. Also the Sea-Length of the Indus Police recently approved by the DSP can in the meantime deal with the reserve in a shape.

But possibly we might ask that this Office (as recommended in L.O.C.) should be allowed any discretion to authorise

(8) Please see G.O.C. enclosure, V. 1451 dated 26th Oct 1904. V. 1460 26th Oct 1904. I have the honour to submit my views in paras 2 – 5 supra.

The necessity for the increase in the number of Constables from 58 to 70 is explained in the enclosure.

L.V.C. Sergeants of the Madras City Police who have served in the British Army are in receipt of a duty allowance of Rs 25 per mensem in addition to pay.

para 7 V. 164 11-7-1914. Under the proposals recently sanctioned for the C.T.I. Station, Sergeants are in receipt of a pay of Rs 125 per mensem + allowance of Rs 25 in the case of British Ex-Soldiers + Conveyance allowance of Rs 20 The proposed duty allowance of Rs 25 is in accordance.

para 8 V. 1460 26th Oct 1904. with practice in Madras City. The Ex-Sergeant of the Madras Police who is to be Supernumerary Sergeant under the scheme, is an Ex-Military man. Besides, in addition para 7 idem. to his duties in training and commanding the Reserve Troop, he has also to superintend the training of recruits and has charge of the Stores. For these reasons, he may be allowed a duty allowance of Rs 25 in addition to pay, plus also a conveyance allowance of Rs 20 as this is admissible to Sergeants in the C.T.I. Station. The Head Constables and Constables to be para 1 of notes supra are in receipt of pay. The same as that which has been recently sanctioned for these Class of officers.

and para 3 V. 1460 26th Oct 1904. pay (Rs 40/-) plus an allowance of Rs 15 as in Madras. This post will be reserved for demobilised Indian officers.

As the scheme appears to have been carefully thought out (please see remarks in para 2 supra), the Government of India may perhaps be addressed on the lines suggested in paras 4 and 5 supra.

V. 154 15 261-A-1904

It seems that Govt. of India, were in a position to sanction proposal (2), and the promotion of the Ex-sergeant of the Madras Police from the rank of Sub-Inspector which he at present fills, to that of Sergeant, it seems, may have been considered apart from the general question of the constitution of an armed Reserve. The Ex-Sergeant it was expected would, in the mean-time, drill the Reserve into shape and the D.S.P., is clearly of opinion that the Reserve should be in charge of an European officer of at least the rank of Sergeant, as besides his duties in training and commanding the Reserve proper he has also the training of recruits and has charge of the Stores. As regards proportion of police force to population (31) the figures below are for 1920.

The ratio in Madras City is roughly a 1000 police to 5 lakhs of population or 200 to a lakh, whereas in the C & M. Station it is approximately 300 to a lakh. The total strength of the police force shown in para 22 of the C & M. Station Admin. Report for 1919-20 is 447 men which includes the Dy. a proposal for the appointment of a Jamadar, it was stated that "following the practice in Madras, the Jamadar who will be a 1st grade Head Constable on Rs 40 p.m. should be given an allowance of Rs 15 p.m.", which means a total emolument of Rs 55. This statement was of course based on the DSO. three proposals. The pay now proposed for the Jamadar is Rs 75; and it would seem very doubtful whether the Govt. of India will entertain the present proposal, in spite of the fact that the DSO is prepared to surrender one appointment of a third grade Head Constable on Rs 30 p.m. The DSO has not stated whether he would be able to meet the extra cost during the current year by re-appropriation Rule 3. however provides that "sanction to any given expenditure becomes operative as soon as funds have been appropriated to meet the expenditure and does not become operative until funds have been so appropriated" If effect may be given to the proposal from next financial year (or 1st March 1925), provision of necessary funds may be made in the budget for that year. of the Police Force, in which case the Resident can sanction the proposal; or the Govt of India will have to be approached for a re-appropriation of funds, even though the Resident has power to create the appointment [The G of I are not likely to allot any additional funds].

If therefore the proposal may be considered favourably, the DSO may perhaps be asked whether he can wait till 1-3-1925 and if not whether sufficient savings will be available under "Pay of establishments" of the Police Force in the current year's budget, to meet the additional expenditure. The question of re-appropriation which would involve a reference to the Govt. of India - may, it is submitted, be put to them only subsequently if necessary i.e. if he should answer the above questions in the negative, which is perhaps not likely.

As regards the merits of the proposal, a reference is requested to the following extract from Col. "The D.S.P. also recommends that, following the practice in Madras, the Jamadar, who will be a first grade Head Constable on Rs 40 p. m., should be given an allowance of Rs 15 p. m. He proposes to reserve this appointment for retired or demobilised Indian Officers. That it is essential that the Reserve Sergeant should have a responsible assistant but it would seem from the above extract that the pay of Rs 75 now proposed (as against Rs 55 proposed before) is rather excessive. Sir,

1) Adverting to your No.1865/261-1904 dated 19-2-21 conveying the sanction of the Government of India to the supply of arms and ammunitions for the Reserve Police, I have the honor to address you on the question of the strength and organisation of this portion of the Station Police.

2) The matter was first raised in my letter No.2037 dated 26th March 1920 on which certain Un-Official correspondence ensued. In the light of further experience I have now to modify some of my remarks then made and to request a fresh consideration of the whole question.

My chief recommendation is that we adopt in toto the Madras standard for training and organisation. In Madras all District Reserves are organised on a basis of one European Sergeant for every fifty men and one Head Constable for every ten men; the Senior Head Constable being styled 'Jamedar' with an allowance of Rs.15/- per mensem. This post is usually reserved for Ex Indian Officers of the Army.

(5) If the Armed Reserve is to fulfill the roll for which it is intended it is necessary that an "Emergency Force" over and above the men employed on Fixed and Routine Duties, be always available to turn out at a moment's notice when required. After consultation with the District Magistrate I have fixed the strength of this "Emergency Force" at 3 Head Constables and 30 Police Constables which is considered as the minimum necessary to meet all contingencies.

(6) I enclose herewith a statement (A) showing the total required strength of the Reserve calculated on this basis, which amounts to 1 European Sergeant, 6 Head Constables (including Jamedar and 70 Police Constables. This included a vacancy Reserve at 14% to meet casualties, leave vacancies etc.

(6) The present strength of the Reserve is one Sub-Inspector 4 Head Constables and 58 Police Constables. My present proposals therefore involve:---

(a) The substitution of a European Sergeant in place of a Sub-Inspector, and
(b) the addition of 2 Head Constables (including one Jamedar) and 12 Police Constables.

(7) It is essential that the Reserve should be in charge of a European Officer of at least the rank of Sergeant, as besides his duties in training and commanding the Reserve Proper; he has also to superintend the training of recruits and has charge of the Stores.

(8) The time for making the change is now opportune, for Sub-Inspector Michael, who was formerly in charge, died suddenly on 28th March 1921. He was an Ex-Quarter Havildar of the Indian Army and specially enlisted for the post in the year 1913. I do not recommend the continuance of this type of officer and the ordinary Sub-Inspector is useless for the work required. As this vacancy could not be otherwise suitably filled, I have appointed an Ex-Sergeant of the Madras Police as a Sub-Inspector to fill it. He is an Ex-Military man with an excellent character, has been fully trained in store work in a Madras District and seems quite suitable for the post. As of course a Sub-Inspector's pay is not sufficient to attract the men of the right stamp permanently it is necessary that this appointment be made into one of a Sergeant and I recommend that that this be done with retrospective effect from the date of appointment of the present incumbent, namely 23rd April 1921. The post of Jamedar carrying a 1st grade Head Constable's pay (Rs.40/-) plus an allowance of Rs.15/- as in Madras will be reserved for retired or demobilised Indian Officers; several suitable men have applied to me for the post, which will serve as a useful avenue of employment for ~~deserving~~ Ex-Military Officers, of whom there are many ~~out~~ of work nowadays. An Officer of this stamp is necessary as intermediary between the Sergeant and the men. He will be able to assist in the Stores. I enclose herewith a Proposition Statement showing the extra cost of my proposals during the current year, which cannot be met by re-appropriation from Police Budget and necessary funds may be provided by re-appropriation from Assigned Tract Revenue.

Inspector and are organised on a basis of one European Sergeant for every 50 men and one Head Constable for every ten men; the senior Head Constable being styled "Jemadar" with an allowance of Rs.15/- per mensem. This post is usually reserved for ex-Indian Officers of the army.

If the Armed Reserve in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore is to fulfil the roll for which it is intended it is necessary that, as in Madras, an "Emergency Force" over and above the men employed on Fixed and Routine duties, be always available to turn out at a moment's notice when required. In consultation with the District Magistrate, the District Superintendent of Police Civil and Military Station, has fixed the strength of this "Emergency Force" at 3 Head Constables and 30 Police Constables which is considered as the minimum necessary to meet all contingencies.

Encls. to G.O. No. 145-5 26-1904.

A statement showing the total required strength of the Reserve calculated on this basis is enclosed. This amounts to 1 European Sergeant, 6 Head Constables (including Jemadar) and 70 Police Constables. This includes a vacancy reserve of 14 per cent to meet casualties, leave vacancies, etc.

The present strength of the Reserve is one Sub Inspector, 4 Head Constables and 58 Police Constables. The present proposals involve therefore

(a) The substitution of an European Sergeant in place of the Sub-Inspector and
(b) The addition of 2 Head Constables (including one Jemadar) and 12 Police Constables.

It is considered essential that the Reserve should be in charge of an European Officer of at least the rank of Sergeant, as, besides his duties in training and commanding the Reserve proper, he has also to superintend the training of recruits and has charge of the Stores. As explained in paragraph 3 above, in Madras this appointment is held by an European Inspector.

Inspector, who was formally in charge, died suddenly on 20th [illegible]. He was an Ex-Quarter Master Havildar of the Indian Army. The District Superintendent of Police, Civil and Military Station, does not recommend the continuance of this type of officer and the ordinary Sub Inspector is unfitted for the work required. As this vacancy could not otherwise be suitably filled, the District Superintendent appointed an Ex-Sergeant of the Madras Police to fill it with the rank of Sub Inspector. He is an Ex-Military man with an excellent character, has been fully trained in store work in a Madras District and is well fitted to be in charge of the Reserve. I concur in the recommendation of the District Superintendent of Police that an European Sergeant should, in future, be in charge of the Reserve Police and trust that the Government of India may be pleased to accept this recommendation. I also recommend that, as a Sub Inspector's pay is inadequate for an European Sergeant, the officer who at present is in charge of the Reserve be allowed to draw pay at the rate sanctioned for the other European Sergeants of the police force here with retrospective effect from the date on which he took up the appointment namely, the 23rd April 1921. The District Superintendent of Police also recommends that, following the practice in Madras, the Jemadar who will be a 1st grade Head Constable on Rs.40/- per mensem, should be given an allowance of Rs.15/- per mensem. He proposes to reserve this appointment for retired or demobilised Indian Officers. Several suitable men have applied for the post which will serve as a useful avenue of employment for deserving Ex-Indian Officers. An officer of this stamp is necessary to act as an intermediary between the Police and the men. He will also be able to assist in the Stores. The rates of pay and allowances recommended for the European Sergeant and of pay for the additional Head Constables and Constables appointment is proposed are the same as those now drawn by other officers of the Police Force here of corresponding rank.

4. The District Superintendent of Police's recommendations which have been set forth in the foregoing paragraphs appear be a reasonable representation of the needs of this Station in the matter of an Armed Police Reserve and they have my full support. I trust, therefore, that the Government of India may be pleased to sanction them. The extra cost of those proposals amounts to Rs.407-10-8 per mensem or Rs.4,892/- per annum, and I would request that, if they are accepted, sanction may be accorded to make necessary provision in the budget for 1922-23. A proposition statement, in duplicate, is enclosed. The additional cost involved during the current year by the proposal that the Ex-Sergeant of the Madras Police who has been in charge of the Reserve here since 23rd April 1921 should be allowed to draw pay from that date at the rate admissible to such officers here amounts to Rs.633-1-9. This can be met from the savings available under the head "26 - Police - District Executive Force - Police Force."

3. A Memorandum in triplicate explaining the details of and the necessity for this expenditure is also enclosed.

I have the honour to be,

Memorandum explaining the details of, and the necessity for, certain additional expenditure in connection with the strengthening and organization of the Reserve Police Quartered at the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore.

1. An additional expenditure of Rs.407-10-8 per mensem or Rs.4,392/- per annum is necessary to form an "emergency force" for the Civil and Military Station over and above the men belonging to the Reserve Police who are employed on fixed and routine duties.

11. The necessity for arming the Civil and Military Station Reserve Police has been accepted by the Government of India and in the letter from this Residency which explained the necessity for this measure, mention was made of the desirability of adopting methods for the training of this force on the line followed in Madras.

In Madras all District Reserves are under the immediate control of an European Inspector and are organised on a basis of one European Sergeant for every 50 men and one Head Constable for every ten men; the senior head Constable being styled "Jamadar" with an allowance of Rs.15/- per mensem. The present strength of the Reserve is one Sub-Inspector 4 Head Constables and 58 Police Constables. The present proposals involve therefore (a) The substitution of an European Sergeant in place of the Sub-Inspector and (b) The addition of 2 Head Constables (including one Jemadar) and 12 Police Constables.

It is considered essential that the Reserve should be in charge of an European Officer of at least the rank of Sergeant, as, besides his duties in training and commanding the Reserve proper, he has also to superintend the training of recruits and has charge of the stores. As already explained, in Madras this appointment is held by an European Inspector.

The present time is opportune for making this change The Sub-Inspector who was formally in charge, died suddenly on 28th March 1921; He was an Ex-Quarter Master Havildar of the Indian Army. The District Superintendent of Police, Civil and Military Station, does not recommend the continuance of this type of officer and the ordinary Sub-Inspector is unfitted for the work required. As this vacancy could not otherwise be suitably filled, the District Superintendent appointed an

Ex- Sergeant

Ex-Sergeant of the Madras Police to fill it with the rank of Sub-Inspector . He is an Ex-Military man with an excellent character, has been fully trained in store work in a Madras District and is well fitted to be in charge of the Reserve. The Resident concurs in the recommendation of the District Superintendent of Police that an European Sergeant should, in future, be in charge of the Reserve Police and he trusts that the Government of India will be pleased to accept this recommendation. It is also recommended that, as a Sub-Inspector's pay is inadequate for an European Sergeant, the officer who at present is in charge of the Reserve be allowed to draw pay at the rate sanctioned for the other European Sergeants of the Police force here ,with retrospective effect from the date on which he took up the appointment, namely, 23rd April 1941. The District Superintendent of Police also recommends that, following the practice in Madras, the Jamadar, who will be a 1st grade Head Constable on Rs.40/- per mensem, should be given an allowance of Rs.15/- per mensem. He proposes to reserve this appointment for retired or demobilised Indian Officers. Several suitable men have applied for the post which will serve as a useful avenue of employment for deserving Ex-Indian Officers. An officer of this stamp is necessary to act as an intermediary between the Sergeant and the men. He will also be able to assist in the Stores.

The rates of pay and allowances recommended for the European Sergeant and of pay for the additional Head Constables and Constables whose appointment is proposed are the same as those now drawn by other officers of the Police Force here of corresponding rank. The District Superintendent of Police's recommendations which have been set forth above appear to the Resident to be a reasonable representation of the needs of this Station in the matter of Armed Police Reserve and they have his full support. It is hoped, therefore, that the Government of India may be pleased to sanction them.

III. The extra cost involved by these proposals amounts to Rs.407-10-8 per mensem or Rs.4,892/- per annum. If they are accepted; it is requested that sanction may be accorded to make necessary provision in the budget for 1922-23.

The additional cost involved during the current year by the proposal that the Ex-Sergeant of the Madras Police who has been in charge of the Reserve here since 23rd April 1921 should be allowed to draw pay from that date at the rate admissible to such officers here, amounts to Rs.633-1-9. This can be met from the savings available under the head "26-Police-District Executive Force-Police Force".

Chapter XLI:- Armed Reserves.

Armed Reserve. 603. At each district head-quarters there shall be kept a body of armed men, called the Armed Reserve Uses. This force must be available to deal promptly with ordinary tumults and local disturbances.

Emergency forces. 604. A minimum force, to be kept ready for immediate action in an emergency, shall be laid down for each district and the Superintendent shall see that it is not allowed to fall below the prescribed strength without good cause.

Reserve Inspector. 605. The reserve shall be under the immediate control of an European Inspector.

Physique. 606. Endeavour should be made to secure men of physique above the average of the district, and if it is possible, without taking weedy men, to adhere to a minimum standard of height of five feet seven inches, this should be done.

Enlistment of Malayalis to be encouraged. 606-A. The enlistment of Malayalis for Armed Reserves should be encouraged and every effort should be made to keep as low as possible the number of men belonging to the town in which the Armed Reserve is stationed.

Number of natives of town to be kept down.

Period of training of recruits. 606-B. Recruit Constables enlisted for Armed Reserves shall be trained at a Central Recruits' School for a period of six months.

Drill. 607. Kit inspection, followed by half an hour's drill, shall be held on Monday morning and an hour's drill on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday mornings and on Friday afternoons. On Saturday morning fatigue duty shall be performed.

One route march a week is compulsory for all Armed Reserves. Swedish drill should be practised twice a week, and should be compulsory for all men under thirty-one years of age, discretion being left to the Superintendent to decide what men over this age should also practise these exercises.

Note. Physical drill will not be taught in the Reserves.

Ordinary duties of the Armed Reserve. 608. The Armed Reserve shall furnish guards at head-quarters, escorts, orderlies and parties for preserving order at festivals and large public assemblies and for maintaining the peace when a disturbance is anticipated.

The employment of the Reserve Police on festival bundhobust duty should, however, be restricted as much as possible. When it is found necessary to send a party of Reserve Police to a festival, they should be kept as a reserve apart from the festival to be used in case of emergency and should not be employed on bundhobust duty. There is no objection to the Emergency Force being drawn on for this purpose if others are no available.

Mobilization Orders. 609. (1) Standing orders for mobilization shall be drawn up.

(2) In these shall be detailed the standing duties of the Armed Reserve and the circle or stations which will supply men to fulfil each of these duties. A copy of the orders shall be hung up in each station concerned.

(3) Instructions on the following points shall be given in respect of the men to be sent in from the district:-

(i) the number of men of each rank to be sent;
(ii) how their work will be carried on in their absence;
(iii) to whom and where they should report themselv
(iv) what their duties will be;
(v) what arms, if any, they should take with them
(vi) that full kits will be taken.

(4) It shall also be laid down that men will be passported direct to the place where they are to do duty.

Circles not to be unduly weakened.

610. Care should be taken, when drawing up the mobilization orders, not to unduly weaken the head-quarter town and taluk circles by with-drawing men from them.

Sergeants.

611. One Sergeant to fifty men shall be attached to the Reserve on mobilization. When necessary, Sergeants will be brought in from other duty, if available.

Formation of Reserve.

612. The ordinary formation of a mobilized Armed Reserv will be that of a company under the command of the Reserve Inspector, divided into half-companies, under the command of Sergeants, which will be further subvided into sections of a convenient siz commanded by head constables.

Inspectors to be called in.

613. If Sergeants are not available, Inspectors must be called in as half company commanders. They will be under orders of the Reserve Inspector in all matters connected with the mobilization. Inspecto should be selected for special aptitude for such employment.

How to be armed.

614. When the Armed Reserve is mobilized to deal with a breach of the peace, the Head Constables shall be armed with swords and the men with carbines and ten rounds of ball or buckshot ammunition, unless ordered to the contrary.

Mobilization of neighbouring Reserves.

615. In cases of immediate emergency, any Superintenden may call upon the Superintendent of one or several neighbouring districts to mobilize his or their Armed Reserves and may require all or part of thos Reserves to proceed to his district.

Annual Mobilization.

616. All Reserves are to be mobilized once a year, at any time which the Superintendent may consider t be the most convenient. The Reserves are than to be drilled for fifteen days, both the Superintenden and the Sub divisional police officers being presen at the drill and taking an active part in it. It is most important that officers should not permit themselves to become so rusty in their drill that they are unable efficiently to command their Reserve in the absence of the Reserve Inspector.

Superintendents are personally to supervise the organisation of the mobilized Reserve and as a rule, they should remain at head-quarters so long as the mobilization continues.

Good

Good shooting badges.

617. Badges for good shooting will be awarded to the men according to the rules in the Drill Manual, Section 124.

Sir,

S. RSt

With reference to your letter No. 6929/4/261-1904 dated 5th August 1921, I understand that the increase in the Bangalore armed reserve has been recommended to the Government of India for sanction from the beginning of the next financial year.

I have to bring to your notice that there is absolutely no provision for an armed Emergency Force at present. Considering the disturbed state of the country and the forthcoming Visit of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, it is imperatively urgent that the increase should take place at once. The additional men have to be enlisted and trained and I request the Government of India may be addressed by wire to sanction the increase accordingly.

2. As regard the financial provision this year, I have no amount I can reappropriate from any source. I request therefore the Government of India may be addressed to specially allot the amount.

I request that the Hon'ble the Resident may be pleased to move the Government of India to create the post of Jemadar of the Reserve Police of this Station on a fixed salary of Rs. 75/- per mensem. My request is based on the following grounds:- The Reserve consists of 5 Head constables and 58 Police constables under the command of an European Sergeant. The duties of this Sergeant include- in addition to absolute charge of these 63 men and all their work - the charge of the stores for the whole force and the escort of European prisoners when necessary. He has no assistant of any kind, consequently, when he is sick, requires leave or has to go on escort duty, a divisional Sergeant has to be taken away from his town duties and placed in charge of the Reserve Sergeant's duties. Each division has only one Sergeant whose duties are to attend to Traffic, beat checking and discipline hence the division suffers when the Reserve Sergeant has to be replaced.

In the Madras Presidency every Reserve - and some are even smaller than ours - is officered by an European Inspector, an European Sergeant and a Jemadar. The larger Reserves have more Sergeants in a proportion of 1 Sergeant to 50 men and a Subadar as well as a Jemadar. The Inspectors of the Special force Reserves e.g. Kamudi, ~~Ewakasi~~ Sivakasi etc - have no store work at all. That Jemadar should be appointed to our Reserve is a very real real necessity. The Sergeant is at present over-worked and the Jemadar could help him a very great deal. If the Sergeant were absent the Jemadar could take charge of the Reserve without disturbing the divisional Sergeants. The man holding the post would have to be an Ex. commissioned officer of the Regular Army. I have at present an application from a Jemadar who in addition to active service during the late war has put in most of his service in instructing recruits and doing Army store work. He can speak and write English, Urdué, Telugu and Tamil and in fine is exactly the man required for the post, holding, as he does, first class certificates from officers now in the Garrison. The extra expenditure would amount to Rs.900 a year plus clothing, but the increase in efficiency of the Reserve would more than counterbalance this. If, however, the expense is considered a bar, I would be prepared to deplete the strength of the division police by 1 3rd grade Head constable - thus effecting a saving of Rs. 30 per mensem plus the clothing of one man. The extra expenditure on the Jemadar would thus only amount to Rs. 45 per mensem or Rs. 540 per annum. I would -- prefer to keep the Head constable if it could possibly be done.

Sir,

Reference:- Resident's Proceedings No. 5407 dated 7-7-24

After a thorough trial of the appointment sanctioned therein it is found that the addition of a Jemadar to the Reserve is an economic failure in that it does not appear to help the Reserve Sergeant in proportion to the cost incurred. The present holder of the post is still on probation and I recommend that his probation cease from 1-9-27 and that the creation of the post be cancelled.
